Burscough Bridge Interchange plan is just the ticket

Burscough Bridge Interchange

A SOLUTION could be found to keep the Burscough Bridge Interchange ticket office open, Lancashire County Council chiefs have revealed.

In December, the Champion reported that a budget document by the county council proposed that the interchange facility at Burscough, opened in 2006, should be withdrawn, with the loss of information and ticketing provision.

The proposal was part of plans to deliver £176 million in savings by April 2018.

A petition to save the interchange gained more than 300 signatures and in December, County Councillor Cynthia Dereli called for a study to take place into whether the Burscough Interchange could be saved by relocating the Burscough Library into the building as well.

Now Lancashire County Council will look into the possibility of relocating Burscough Library into the station building in a bid to maintain services and protect the future of the station's ticket office.

PLANS FOR NEW TOWN CENTRE 'HUB' UNVEILED

Report by Danielle Thompson

PLANS for a multi–million pound 'hub' for Ormskirk town centre have been unveiled.

West Lancs councillors are looking at a possible regeneration scheme for the Moor Street bus station site which could include a new Chapel Gallery facility, small business units, a cafe, visitor information centre and residential properties.

A new bus station would be incorporated into the site.

The council's next step will be to carry out a feasibility study into the plans. If they are viable, a public consultation would be held.

Councillor David Westley, leader of West Lancs Council, said: "Although these plans are very much in an embryonic stage at the moment, the possibilities for the site are very exciting.

"The current buildings at the bus station are past their best and don't give a great first impression. We are ambitious for Ormskirk and believe it could be a real hub for new businesses, a newly–relocated Chapel Gallery, studio space, a café and a visitor centre.

"We're also looking at residential accommodation on site. We know there is a demand for town–centre living and the lack of it at the moment has led to a number of homes in residential areas turned into student accommodation. These units could be for those studying locally, or perhaps they could be

Trust bosses seek to increase parking spaces at Ormskirk Hospital

Charges for long–stay visitors to rise by 10p

LAND at Ormskirk Hospital previously set aside for helicopter transfers could be set to become additional car parking space instead, if hospital trust bosses get their way.

Meanwhile, visitors and staff who use car parking facilities at the hospital site for two hours or more will face increased charges, from Wednesday, April 1.

The Southport and Ormskirk Hospital NHS Trust is seeking planning permission to expand parking on land at the top of the main car park, facing the hospital entrance, which is currently set aside for helicopter transfers.

This would increase parking by around 120 spaces later this year.

Neil Aindow, capital projects manager at the trust, said: "There are now few occasions when this facility is needed for its original purpose. By making alternative arrangements we can use this land more productively for the benefit of patients and visitors."

The trust has also announced that charges for visitors and staff parking at Ormskirk and Southport hospitals for at least two hours will rise for the first time since 2013.

From Wednesday, April 1 the charge for parking for between two and four hours will increase from £3.40 to £3.50; stays of four to eight hours will go up from £4.20 to £4.30; and those staying in excess of eight hours will pay £5.30 instead of £5.20.

There will still be no fee for visitors parking for less than 20 minutes and for stays lasting between 20 minutes and two hours the fee will remain £2.90.

Bridge club stages surprise party for ton–up girl Betty!

Betty Hyder celebrates her 100th birthday with fellow players from Westhead Bridge Club. Code1078882

MEMBERS of the Westhead Bridge Club had a very special trick up their sleeves for long–standing member Betty Hyder at their latest meeting – a surprise party, complete with flowers, cake and wine, to celebrate her 100th birthday!

The First World War was in only its second year and King George V was on the throne when Betty, from Aughton, entered the world.

Her late husband George was a plumber and the couple had a son John and two grandchildren, David, 38, and Danny, 35.

Betty, who is also known as Bessie, used to work at Ormskirk library as well as working at a newsagents on Long Lane.

In her younger days she used to enjoy crown green bowling and is a former member of St Anne's Bowling Club in Ormskirk.

And she received a commemorative card from the Queen to celebrate her milestone birthday.

Mike Porter, chairman of the Westhead Bridge Club, which is based at the Wellbeing Centre on Moorgate in Ormskirk, said: "Betty is one of our longest–serving members. I have been a member of the club for the last 35 years and she was already a member when I joined!"

And fellow member, Willem Wiechers, added: "Betty, who we also know as Bessie, has been a player for many, many years. She never misses her Tuesday and Wednesday sessions and she is a very good player – she is still very sharp!

"It was lovely to host a do for her at the club, we had glasses of wine, cake and gave Betty a little presentation and flowers."

retirement units like the Brookside development on Aughton Street. We have instructed council officers to investigate the feasibility of such a project."

Councillor David Sudworth, the council's cabinet member for leisure, said: "I'm particularly pleased the council is looking at creating a new Chapel Gallery on Moor Street. The current gallery is a fantastic facility and is renowned right across the North West, even though it is relatively tucked away at the moment. If it was given a more central location, such as on Moor Street, it could reach even more people."

And Councillor David Griffiths, cabinet member for town and village centres, added: "The existing bus station occupies a large site in a key location but at the moment the space isn't being used to its full potential.

"I must stress that the work is still in the very early stages. The next stage is to carry out a feasibility study that would include detailed costings and viability in terms of funding and revenue implications. If the project proves to be viable then a range of design options would be developed and put out to public consultation."

Library plan for Interchange

The ticket office and the library would continue to be run separately but from the same building, making it more cost–effective.

But a spokesman for Lancashire County Council assured the Champion that this is not the only option that they will explore.

The spokesman said: "We are currently exploring options for the future use of the ticket office building at Burscough Interchange, and are optimistic that a solution can be found which will allow its function as a ticket office to be retained.

"The option agreed as part of this year's budget to make a saving by closing the office is not due to be implemented until April 2016 which gives us a year to come up with a solution."

Doctors raise funds for new lifesaver

By Danielle Thompson

A NEW defibrillator has been installed on Railway Road in Ormskirk.

Doctor Ros Bonsor and Doctor Bapi Biswas from the Railway Road Surgery in Ormskirk fundraised for a Community Public Access Defibrillator with a sponsored swim and cycle.

The defibrillator was installed by P. Daniels Building Contractors for free on the outside wall at the entrance to the pharmacy, adjacent to the surgery.

A Community Publically Accessible Defibrillator, which costs around £1,400, is a lightweight, portable device that delivers an electric shock through the chest to the heart designed to halt an irregular rhythm and allow a normal rhythm to resume following sudden cardiac arrest.

The surgery has teamed up with the Lancashire Defibrillator Campaign (LDC) group, who will hold training sessions for members of the public to learn to use the defibrillator, at the surgery.

Sue Murrin–Bailey from the LDC, which has installed 22 of the devices across West Lancashire, said: "The doctors quite literally have gone the extra mile with their fundraising towards this project with Dr Bonsor swimming the equivalent of the English Channel at Park Pool, Ormskirk and Dr Biswas doing a sponsored bike ride from Manchester to Blackpool.

"The surgery and all the patients should rightfully be very proud of their efforts as the completion of this project now ensures that all areas of Ormskirk town centre are served by this type of emergency lifesaving equipment."

Doctor Ros Bonsor, Pete Daniels from P Daniels Building Contractors, Sue Murrin–Bailey and Dr Bapi Biswas with the LDC mascot at the installation of the defibrillator

Pleased

The Lancashire Defibrillator Campaign will be hosting free defibrillator awareness sessions at the Railway Road premises in the spring to enable as many patients and residents in the area to learn more about the equipment and how to use it.

Notification of these sessions will be published in the Ormskirk area after Easter.

Cheryl Pickstock from the chain of survival team at North West Ambulance Service NHS Trust said: "We are really pleased to be working with the Lancashire Defibrillator Campaign to place such lifesaving equipment in the local community.

"Having such equipment will ensure early defibrillation is accessible to anyone suffering a life–threatening cardiac arrest. Anyone suffering a cardiac arrest requires early intervention to give them a good chance of survival and with a defibrillator this can increase significantly.

"The defibrillator is easy and straightforward to use, even non–clinical persons can use it. More than 60,000 cardiac arrests occur out of hospital every year in the UK and without someone willing to do CPR and use a defibrillator their chance of survival is as little as 5%. Using a defibrillator without delay will enable a much better chance of survival."

Staff and pupils of Halsall St Cuthbert's CE Primary School show off their 'Outstanding' banner

School receives glowing report

Report by Danielle Thompson

STAFF and pupils at a local primary school are celebrating after being adjudged 'Outstanding' across the board by government watchdogs.

Ofsted inspectors visited Halsall St Cuthbert's Voluntary Aided Church of England Primary School last month and have now issued their report.

This found the school in New Street to be outstanding in all five categories – leadership and management; behaviour and safety of pupils; quality of teaching; achievement of pupils; and early years provision.

Headteacher Doug Scholes, who has been at the helm of the school for 15 years, said that the school first achieved outstanding status in 2008 and had worked hard to maintain that standard since as the Ofsted inspectors look at the work and results of the pupils from the last visit to the next.

He told the Champion: "The key is getting the right staff and ours give so much. They are talented, committed and do so many extracurricular activities.

"The school has a real family feel with all of the staff knowing all of the students' names, and we have strong links to the community through the church and our brilliant parent–teacher association who raise so much money for the school through a variety of events each year.

"The children visited the Anglican Cathedral in Liverpool recently, as well as celebrating World Book Day by inviting pupils' dads to read stories in class.

"We also raise thousands each year for charities and in the last two years we have raised funds for Children in Need, Red Nose Day, War Child and for the victims of the Philippines disaster.

"We also organise a lot of residential trips. Year 6 will be going on a week–long trip to Aberystwyth to do activities including swimming and visiting a slate mine, while the Year 4 and 5 classes will be going on two–night outdoor pursuit trips. We believe these teach them independence and vital life skills and better prepares them for high school.

"We don't teach the curriculum with exams in mind, we prefer our pupils to be well–rounded and to enjoy learning.

"And we were praised by the Ofsted inspectors for our strong 'no excuse' culture. We don't make excuses for areas that we could improve in, just try harder to make these better."

Musical treat in store at U3A agm

THERE will be a musical treat in store for members of the Ormskirk branch of the University of the Third Age (U3A) at their next annual general meeting on Thursday, April 9 at Christ Church in Long Lane, Aughton.

Group member Jill Fielding, one half of The Jill Fielding Duo Gold, will be performing Irish and 1960s and 70s music. The meeting starts at 10.30am and members of the public are invited to go along.

The U3A is a national organisation that encourages pensioners to maintain an interest in learning and socialising together. There are other branches in West Lancs in Burscough, Becconsall (covering Hesketh Bank, Banks and Tarleton), Parbold & Newburgh, Skelmersdale and Up Holland.

Fun runners 'leg it' to record total for charity

A POPULAR charity fun run has raised a record–breaking £8,000 to date – with more to come!

The fourth Jacob's Leg It event – formerly the Belle Vue House 10K – was held on Sunday, March 22.

Starting at 10.30am, the run was a one–lap route starting and ending at Edge Hill University.

It is organised by the Skelmersdale Boundary Harriers along with the O2 shop in Ormskirk.

There were 430 entrants this year and it has already raised more than £8,000 for the National Autistic Society, with donations still flooding in.

There was also a 1,500–metre children's run for seven to 16 year–olds on the race track ahead of the main event.

The event was launched in 2011 when it raised £2,320. This was followed by £4,069 in 2012, £6,016 in 2013 and £7,771 last year.

Emma Day, one of the event organisers, said: "it's amazing that the run has raised so much for such a worthwhile cause each year and we are so pleased to have beaten our target of £8,000.

"The name of the event was changed in honour of the 02 Ormskirk director Nick Mussell's son, Jacob who has autism.

"Children who have autism can feel awkward and may want to run away or 'leg it' so the run is a play on this that ties in with the race."

Runners in last Sunday's Jacob's Leg It 10K race set off from the Sporting Edge. Code1079050

Council welcomes report showing town has fewer empty retail units

By Danielle Thompson

WEST Lancs Council chiefs have welcomed a report that reveals that Ormskirk has half the number of empty shops compared to the UK average.

The latest figures from retail experts Springboard's Quarterly Vacancy Rates Survey show that just 4.8% of ground–floor retail units in the town are empty.

This is the lowest of the 15 towns and cities which provided information for the report and compares to an average of 10.4% for the United Kingdom as a whole and 13.5% for the North West.

This is a drop in vacancy rates from 6.37% when the council last did their own survey in October 2014.

New businesses that have opened up since then include Junk Bar on Church Street and Salt and Liquour on Derby Street, while the Brighter Future Workshop has decided to continue using the former Ormskirk Shopmobility base on Two Saints Car Park.

A spokesman for the borough council said: "West Lancs Council works with partners and businesses to ensure Ormskirk and all the borough's town and village centres are as attractive and appealing as possible to visitors and investors.

"The council also works with property agents to market vacant property and the Business Rates Retail

Councillor David Westley

Relief scheme is continuing for the 2015/16 financial year.

"The authority has provided part of the funding for the refreshing of the Moor Street pedestrianised area, in partnership with Lancashire County Council. The borough council also supports Love Ormskirk, a private–sector led initiative that aims to encourage new businesses, shoppers and visitors into the town centre."

And leader of the council and portfolio holder for regeneration, Councillor David Westley, said: "This report is excellent news and shows that Ormskirk continues to be a good place to work, shop and do business. A range of facilities including shops and restaurants are complemented by Ormskirk Market, which is managed by the borough council, and brings in many visitors.

"The council also runs and supports events all year round including the very popular Ormskirk Motorfest which attract visitors into the heart of the town.

"The council is working with partners on a draft strategy for Ormskirk town centre to ensure it continues to be vibrant as our high streets change. We have had a good response to our public consultation on this, but we want to hear from as many people as possible and you have until Tuesday, April 14 to have your say."

Some of the main proposals covered in the strategy for Ormskirk include improving the evening/night–time economy to help ensure that the town centre continues to be a vibrant and safe environment after 5pm, including the possible introduction of food and drink festivals; reviewing the current pricing strategy of the town centre car parks; improving transport and access arrangements; developing a website dedicated to the town centre and making improvements including making the most of the town's historic character.

Creative Easter fun in store at Chapel Gallery

THE Chapel Gallery on St Helens Road, Ormskirk has a host of Easter activities lined up for youngsters to enjoy.

Children aged eight to 12 can take part in two creative workshops, Egg Heads on Wednesday, April 1 and the Baskets of Goodies workshop on Wednesday, April 8.

There will also be a free bird–themed workshop at Mere Sands Wood on Wednesday, April 8.

During the Egg Heads workshop they will explore carving, patterning and manipulating clay and make their own egg cups to take home.

Those attending the Basket of Goodies will use a variety of paper and learn weaving techniques to make their own funky shapes.

Artist Emma Blackburn will lead both workshops, which will run from 10.30am to 12.30pm.

All Things Easter on Friday, April 10 is a treasure trove of fun activities that includes colouring in, decorating eggs and making Easter bonnets.

This session will be led by a professional artist and is a free, family–friendly event for pre–school children and their families.

All children need to be accompanied by an adult with the morning session running from 10.30am to 12.30pm and the afternoon session from 1.30 to 3.30pm.

Staff from the Chapel Gallery are also hosting a free, family–friendly Wonderful Wildlife event at Mere Sands Wood on Wednesday, April 8.

Professional artist Lucy Wilson, who draws and creates wildlife, is hosting a workshop as part of the RSPB draw a bird day.

This event is suitable for children of all ages and sessions run from 10.30am to 12.30pm and 1.30 to 3.30pm.

For details of booking and charges etc. conntact the Chapel Gallery on 01695 571328 or email chapel.gallery@westlancs.gov.uk.

Councillor David Sudworth, West Lancs Council's portfolio holder for leisure, said: "The Chapel Gallery always provides great events during the school holiday and I would encourage children to go along and learn new artistic skills."

Countdown to this year's Ormskirk MotorFest has begun

THE countdown has begun to the 2015 Ormskirk MotorFest.

Motoring enthusiasts are once again being invited to enter their vehicles for display at the motoring extravaganza which has become one of the North West's biggest free family events.

This year's event is scheduled to take place on Sunday, August 30 but online entry has already begun.

If you have a vintage, classic, competition or exciting car or motorcycle that you would like to display, then log on to www.ormskirkmotorfest.com and complete the online entry form.

Last year an estimated 25,000 people enjoyed a fabulous day out at the MotorFest with more than 300 cars and motorcycles from all eras lined up on Moor Street, Aughton Street and in Coronation Park.

Many visitors particularly enjoyed taking a close look at the two Formula 1 cars on display, a 1978 Williams car and a classic BRM which was raced by Graham Hill.

'Fantastic spectacle'

The MotorFest Autosolo Challenge, which saw professional drivers testing their skills over a specially–designed course, was another very popular attraction.

The MotorFest is organised by Aintree Circuit Club, supported by West Lancashire Borough Council, and plans are already beinh made to make this year's event better than ever.

Councillor David Griffiths, West Lancs Council's portfolio holder for town and village centres, said: "The Ormskirk MotorFest has become one of the highlights of the year for many local people as thousands of people come from all over the North West to enjoy this fantastic spectacle.

"I am sure Ormskirk MotorFest 2015 will be even more successful than previous years and we hope you will all join us for what will be another fantastic day out for all the family, so make sure you don't miss it."

The success of the 2014 Ormskirk MotorFest helped Aintree Circuit Club be chosen as joint winners of the Motorsport Industry Association's (MIA) National Motorsport Week Award for Best Club. This year the club will be marking the 60th anniversary of the first British Grand Prix held at the Aintree circuit.

Mike Ashcroft, Aintree Circuit Club chairman, said: "We are only a very small organising team but we constantly strive to improve the quality and appeal of our events. We are looking forward to the 2015 edition of the Ormskirk MotorFest, so put the event in your diary to make sure you don't miss it."

Meanwhile, the organisers are looking at a number of ways sponsors can become involved in MotorFest. For more details contact Colin Brady on 01695 585125 or Mike Ashcroft by email at mja@aintree.org.uk or by telephone on 01744 746 706 or 07821 230 961.

Mum renews barrier plea

By Danielle Thompson

THE mother of a young man who was killed on an 'accident black spot' on the M58 near Aughton is renewing calls for a crash barrier claiming that draining and resurfacing work to level out the road has failed to stop accidents on that stretch.

Susan Davies, who campaigned for the stretch of motorway to be resurfaced after her son's tragic death, says there was an accident just a day after the work was completed.

Now she is appealing for anyone who has been in an accident between junctions 1 and 3 since 2009 and have been injured as a result of their vehicles skidding off the road and down the embankment, to contact her so she can compile a log of the incidents to send to the Highways Agency.

Susan's son Robert James Davies, 26, died when his car, heading westbound on the M58, left the carriageway around a mile from Junction 1, and went down the embankment crashing through a wooden fence and rolling over into a field in August, 2011.

Father–of–three David Dale, 68, from Aughton, also died at the scene after he had a similar accident on the same stretch on Boxing Day last year.

There were more than 30 accidents on the stretch between May, 2009 and December, 2014.

A private company's collision report, published 18 months after Robert's death, blamed the crashes on excessive surface water on the road causing the drivers to lose control.

The Highways Department resurfaced from Junction 1–3 in January but Susan believes a crash barrier at the stretch will save more lives.

She said: "The road was fitted with drains and resurfaced but there was another accident only a day after the drains were fitted – showing that not enough as been done yet. I am pleased the stretch has been resurfaced but Robert and David both died after their vehicles left the motorway and rolled down the embankment.

"Robert's seat belt was sheared off by the picket fence and it was this that led to his death. I believe that both of the drivers who were killed could have been saved by a barrier and I won't stop campaigning until we get one.

"I would also like to see electronic signs warning drivers of the danger and better lighting from Junction 1 to 3.

"I am appealing for anyone who has had an accident there since May, 2009 to contact me at sdavie–s@hotmail.com."

Junctions 1–3 were resurfaced in January

Prince's Trust team complete garden project

SIX members of the Ormskirk Prince's Trust Team 7 completed their community project by renovating the garden at the Abbey Wood Lodge Care Home for the elderly with dementia in County Road.

Team leader, Jonathan Marlowe, said: "The team – Sean, Stewart, Lewis, Lauren, Amy and Megan – wanted to create a nice area outside where the residents can go to relax and spend time with their families."

Youngsters help to plant orchard

By Danielle Thompson

LOCAL volunteers and primary school children have teamed up with West Lancs Council Rangers to plant a community orchard at the entrance to Richmond Park in Burscough.

The apple and plum trees were donated to the Friends of Richmond Park whose members Tony and Gill Brunskill and Brian Guy recruited the services of pupils at Lordsgate Township CE Primary and council rangers to help with the planting.

They were also joined by Dennis Walton, from the Friends of Coronation Park in Ormskirk, who looks after the community orchard there.

The trees are expected to grow to full maturity in about four years when local people will be able to pick the fruit for a healthy snack.

Councillor David Sudworth, West Lancs Council's portfolio holder for leisure, said: "The pupils and the friends group have worked hard with the rangers to plant this orchard and deserve a lot of praise for their efforts. I am sure it will bring a lot of pleasure to people in the local area for many years to come."

Youngsters from the school in Lordsgate Drive, Burscough have previously helped the rangers to plant tulip bulbs, a peace garden and a wild hedge. They thoroughly enjoy their voluntary work which helps to make the park an even nicer place to visit.

Steven Allday, deputy head teacher at the school, said: "The children learn a lot about nature and how things grow from taking part in these activities. We are very grateful to the rangers and the friends group for letting us get involved."

Universities team up on health project

STUDENTS from Edge Hill joined forces with counterparts from two other universities to promote health services in Liverpool.

The 22 students and staff members were split into teams from Edge Hill, Hope University and Liverpool John Moore University to compete to visit the most activities and services from the LiveWell Liverpool health directory, which provides information on health services in the city.

The event ran for three hours and in total the teams visited more than 100 health services.

The directory aims to support initiatives which enable people to stay healthy.

Everyone taking part promoted LiveWell Liverpool, with staff and students tweeting as they went from one activity to the next about their experience using the hashtag staywell

The event aimed to find out more about community activities available in the city.

The groups visited various services like chemists, community digital hubs and lunch clubs in areas of Liverpool.

Carcass firm boss moves to dispel fears over smells

Report by Danielle Thompson

THE owner of an animal carcass processing plant who plans to relocate the business in three former aircraft hangars has spoken out to allay residents' fears.

Residents living near to the former hangars on Tollgate Road, Burscough have objected to a planning application submitted by Paul Martland to relocate Martland Knackers Yard from its current location at Barton's Farm, Moss Lane, to hangars C1–3.

The business collects animal carcasses from farms, highways, beaches, rivers, zoos and racecourses and processes them into pet food, hides and bonemeal before the remnants are sent for rendering at a plant in Widnes.

The current site handles between 60 and 100 tonnes of carcasses per week.

Essential

However, according to Mr Martland the proposed new facility would have improved extraction and smell–reduction systems installed, where contaminated air is released under a large area of aerated soil, planted up with heather or similar plans to absorb the bacteria.

This system could not be used at the current site as there is not enough open–field space.

Mr Martland told the Champion: "It would be my preference to stay on our current site where the business has operated for more than 100 years. However, the opportunity has arisen to establish a state–of–the–art facility adjacent to industrial development and a considerable distance from residential properties.

"The nature of the business is that mainly fallen stock from agriculture is prepared, under strict Department For Agriculture rules, for disposal at a plant situated in Widnes. Very, very rarely are we called upon by statutory authorities to remove animals from the road or beach but this is an essential service which sometimes has to be provided to councils and the Highways Agency.

"I would like to reassure residents that this is an environmentally sympathetic development using the very latest technologies which will have no effect whatsoever on the quality of life of those people living in the nearest housing."

The existing business at Barton's Farm is surrounded by housing and residents at the current location have previously complained about the smell.

West Lancs Council are scheduled to make a decision on the application by Friday, April 24.

Company pledges support for Apprenticeship Week

By Danielle Thompson

STAFF at a West Lancs company have pledged their support for National Apprenticeship Week and called on other firms to consider taking on an apprentice.

National Apprenticeship Week is a government scheme that celebrates apprenticeships and the positive impact they have on individuals, businesses and the wider economy.

Sara Parker, marketing officer at Face For Business based at Martland Mill, Burscough, say the company firmly believes that 'on–the–job' training is the best way to nurture and develop young employees' talents.

The company, which provides telephone–answering and call–handling services, employed its first apprentice, Roisin Sweeney, last summer.

The 18–year–old is training towards her NVQ qualification in business administration.

Sara Parker said: "At Face for Business we fully believe that talent can be nurtured and developed on the job and we are committed to our apprenticeship programme. We would urge other employers to consider using the scheme, as the benefits are paramount.

Roisin Sweeney Code NA

"We believe that gaining good work experience enables apprentices to be faced with challenges in the real world, with the benefit of having experienced colleagues on hand to advise and provide encouragement."

Clouds take shine off eclipse plan...

PUPILS at a local primary school came up with a bright idea for viewing Friday's eagerly–anticipated solar eclipse safely – only to have their efforts dashed by clouds!

The youngsters at Tarleton Holy Trinity Church of England Primary took up their positions in the school grounds at just after 9am armed with colanders as the scheduled optimum viewing time approached.

But despite their best efforts they were only able to catch a fleeting glimpse of the event before the skies clouded over.

Using a colander, with its multiple tiny holes, is one of the safest ways to view the eclipse without risking damage to your eyesight. The holes project several images on to a piece of white card or paper held in front of the viewer, who stands with his or her back to the sun.

Headteacher of the Church Road school, Stephen Smith, said: "All the children were looking forward to witnessing the solar eclipse. The whole school went on to the playground and for a short time we did get a glimpse of the eclipse until the clouds intervened.

"Still, it's only another 20 years to wait for the next one!"

Pilot scheme won't turn firefighters into paramedics

I WRITE regarding the Ormskirk front page article (March 10) re: fire crews responding to medical emergencies.

As a paramedic I think it's vital that any patient with a life–threatening condition receives fast, professional and effective treatment and transport to the appropriate care facility, which nowadays is not always the nearest A&E.

The pilot scheme will not train firefighters anywhere near to the standard of a paramedic. In fact, they won't be trained to the standard of our emergency medical technicians.

Paramedics train for between two and three years before qualifying. They are trained to a high standard in advanced life support, including inserting needles into veins, bone, and the chest, to be able to deliver lifesaving drugs or relieve the pressure built up from a punctured lung.

They are also able to pass different adjuncts into the trachea to breathe for people who are not breathing for themselves and have a large formulary of medication, from cardiac drugs and anti sickness medication, to pain relief and anti–convulsants.

First responders are everyday people who wish to help the ambulance service in delivering medical care as a stop–gap until a trained clinician can get to scene. Their training is extremely basic.

They do carry defibrillators which actually stop the unco–ordinated heart as opposed to the myth of starting the heart. They do this by delivering an electric shock. Once the unco–ordinated heart is stopped the hope is the natural pacemaker of the heart, the sino–atrial node, then sends signals for the heart muscle to contract in a co–ordinated fashion as it should do.

Defibrillators can only shock certain rhythms ventricular fibrillation and pulseless ventricular tachycardia, so are no use on asytolic or pulseless electrical activity rhythms.

First responders are trained in basic life support. They have nothing to protect a patient's airway or any drugs to give apart from oxygen.

The main reason for first responders is the level of activity the ambulance service is under and has been for a number of years. This has been increasing year–on–year and services across the country have been stretched to breaking point.

Fire services have become victims of the modern world. Buildings are built with fire–retardant materials and fire prevention is excellent. As a result, they are not required as much as they were hence the need to evolve into a fire and rescue service. This not only delivers better safety for the public but enables our fire service to deal with situations safely that in the past wouldn't have been.

What we should be championing is to put the money that this pilot will cost into more frontline ambulances as it's clear we need the resources and the fire service apparently don't. A fire engine cannot move that patient and an ambulance will still have to attend.

One other thought, when a fire engine is dealing with a cardiac arrest and a call comes in about a fire what then? The fire then has to wait for an appliance to come from further away putting more lives at risk.

A paramedic,

Borough's roads not fit for purpose

I AM sure I am one of many of your readers who are fed up and appalled by the state of repair of our roads in West Lancashire.

From Cottage Lane in Ormskirk, Kiln Lane in Skelmersdale, to the main road from Ormskirk through Westhead to Skelmersdale the roads are not fit for purpose.

I know of two people, one of them my son, who have damaged car wheels beyond repair through potholes over the course of the winter.

It will only be a matter of time before an accident happens as a driver swerves to avoid yet another gaping hole in the road.

I know that councils budgets are being squeezed and the solution will cost a lot of money, but the repair and maintenance of our roads is paramount to safe driving and is long overdue.

We pay our road and council taxes and deserve to know what the council plans to do to improve this unacceptable situation.

Bobbie Perry, by email

Law–flouting cyclists are not a priority for hard–pressed police

IN response to Concerned cycist 'Why are cyclists not fined for flouting laws' (Letters, March 4) it's simple, the police are so understaffed and underfunded that it is not a priority and whilst they are busy chasing about filling in forms and logging it all – to little avail – the real issues are being sidestepped.

Some cyclists will continue to flout the law and ride with no lights or totally inappropriate ones and some will continue riding the wrong way on our roads but only until they are either killed or seriously injured enough that they can no–longer ride.

As it stands currently flashing lights on a cycle are perfectly legal provided that the fall into certain categories.

Thanks to the 2005 RVLR amendment on October 23 of that year it finally became legal to have a flashing light on a pedal cycle, provided it flashes between 60 and 240 times per minute (1–4Hz).

Even better, it became possible for a flashing light to be approved, meaning no other light would be needed in that position. And since BS6102/3 does not cater for flashing, approval is granted simply on the basis of brightness (as specified above).

Now thereby lies a potential problem for a police officer. Can he or she count fast enough to verify the validity of the lighting.

Indeed, are these fitments sold as fit for purpose and carry an appropriate 'E' mark?

From my own personal experience flashing lights are far more attention–grabbing than regular static/solid lights but they all need functional batteries don't they?

Another cyclist,

A place to live and a place to die

MY father passed away recently after a 14–month battle with cancer.

Dad was in denial about his prognosis and never talked about his wishes in relation to where he would die when the time came. The one thing we were sure about was that we didn't want him to die in hospital. We discussed it and agreed that having him at home would be our preferred choice.

Dad had a spell in hospital and when it became clear he was deteriorating rapidly we were advised that we needed to move quickly if we wanted him to die at home. Arrangements were put in place for him to be discharged the next day and a frantic period followed where equipment was delivered and a care plan put in place.

Dad arrived home the following evening, the ambulance crew put him in the hospital bed set up in the lounge and hooked him up to the oxygen which had arrived that morning.

We stood looking at this extremely sick man in the bed, then at each other and said 'what have we done?' We felt overwhelmed by his needs and concerned we wouldn't be able to care for him properly.

Then the district nurses arrived and any concerns were totally alleviated. They were absolutely amazing. They made dad comfortable, advised we could get in touch with them at any time, day or night and assured us we were doing the right thing.

Dad passed away within 48 hours. The network of support offered by the district nurses, Dr Bisarya, palliative care nurses and care workers enabled us to be simply what we had always been – his family. We were able to spend those precious last days with dad in the comfort of his own home.

We made a 'nest' with easy chairs by his bed and my mum, sister, brother and I stayed with him. We drank endless cups of tea (the odd glass of wine!) and ate home–cooked food.

We laughed about things dad had said and done. If he had been in hospital we would have felt laughing would have seemed insensitive and appeared we didn't care.

We cried at the knowledge we were losing him. If he had been in hospital we would have felt our distress would have been distressing to other patients nearby.

We couldn't have all been together constantly for the whole period leading up to dad's death and for that opportunity we were truly grateful. Dad passed away peacefully with all four of us around his bed touching him.

My reason for this letter is twofold. Firstly, talk to your loved ones while they are healthy and find out what their end of life wishes are. It's a much easier conversation to have than when they are dying.

Secondly, it may be that complex health needs necessitate you or your loved ones to be in hospital or a hospice when the end comes, but if the situation allows you to, then don't be afraid of choosing to be at home. Mum and dad's lounge has not become the place where dad died, we will always see it as the place where dad lived.

You never realise the network of support that is out there until you need it and the fantastic support we received meant that although dad's passing was distressing, it was also truly rewarding and there aren't many experiences in life where that happens simultaneously.

JS, Skelmersdale, by email

Lie was 'criminal'

NOW that David Duckenfield has admitted he lied about the Hillsborough disaster surely he has perverted the course of justice?

Therefore, if this matter is reported by a member of the public to the police are they not obliged to investigate the 'alleged crime'?

Duckenfield then goes on to say that he will have to live with the cover–up until the day he dies. Well, Mr Duckenfield how do you think the families of the 96 feel?

James Riley, Skelmersdale

Cloudy2Clear Windows – Service With A Smile!

It's been a crazy few months for Cloudy2Clear Windows. The company which specialises in repairing windows which are steamed up, broken or damaged by replacing the panes – not the frames has grown rapidly as homeowners take advantage of their services.

Manager Paul Kane feels that it's all about service. 'Our product is simple. If your double glazing is misted up we can replace the glass at a fraction of the cost of a new window, in any type of frame, and with a new 10 year guarantee. But it's not just about saving people money, although that obviously helps. Many tradespeople have struggled since last year and I honestly feel that during the good times a minority perhaps didn't focus on customer care as much as they should have done. We make sure we turn up when we say we will, do the job the customer requires and leave their house as clean as a whistle. I often get comments back from customers on how they really didn't expect that sort of service which, in a way, is very sad for the service industry as a whole.'

Cloudy2Clear service the Crosby, Litherland, Aintree, Maghull, Walton, Anfield, Netherton, Bootle, Formby, Ormskirk and Skelmersdale areas & Paul is finding that his approach is a major factor in his success. 'The truth is that it's not just the personal satisfaction that I get from doing a good job but also it makes good business sense. I get a huge amount of business from friends and family of people I've done work for, which just goes to show how much a little bit of effort is appreciated.'

Businesses urged to seek grant funding

RURAL businesses across Lancashire can apply for part of £4.6million of funding that is available to support employment and growth.

The programme, which will launch in June, will be managed and delivered by Lancashire County Council.

Funding will be available for eligible rural businesses located across the county to help farmers who are seeking to invest in new technologies, diversify or make on–site improvements.

Finance will also be available for new or existing small or micro enterprises looking to create job opportunities.

Grants will be allocated by three Local Action Groups covering rural Lancashire, parts of Greater Manchester and Lancashire West.

Each of these groups is made up of representatives from the public, private and voluntary sectors who have spent the last year identifying local priority areas for funding.

The programme will initially focus on farming and enterprise and later this year will look to support forestry, tourism, culture & heritage, and community projects.

You can register for the online newsletter to keep up–to–date on opportunities for your rural community by emailing karen.kerrigan@lancashire.gov.uk.

Leader of Lancashire County Council, County Councillor Jennifer Mein, said: "This is a fantastic opportunity for local rural businesses who are looking to develop and grow."

Cambodia trip is Rainbow leader Rosanna's own crock of Gold!

By Danielle Thompson

A RAINBOW leader from Ormskirk is getting ready for a trip of a lifetime to volunteer in Cambodia this summer.

Rosanna Atkins, 25, a leader with the 5th Ormskirk St Anne's Rainbow group, will participate in the Guiding Overseas Linked with Development (Gold) scheme.

She will complete the community development project with six other guiding members over three weeks at the end of July.

The volunteers will take part in a range of vital community development projects, ranging from advocacy and leadership training for young guiding leaders in the country, to PR and marketing training for senior members.

The Gold project for guiding members aged 17 to 30 was launched 20 years ago with volunteers travelling as far as Honduras, Madagascar, Russia, South Africa and Thailand.

Rosanna, who is currently studying for a foundation degree in healthcare play specialism at Bolton College, needs to raise £1,700 to fund her trip to Cambodia. So far she has hosted a disco for a local Brownie group and is also planning a girl–only movie and pamper overnight, raffle and cake sales.

Rosanna Atkins

She is also applying for grants and will hopefully be holding a fundraising bag–pack at Morrison's supermarket in the near future.

She said: "I am so excited to be part of the Gold project and travelling to Cambodia is going to be an experience I'm sure I will never forget."

Bingo fundraiser

IT'S eyes down look in for a fundraising bingo evening at the Four Lane Ends Mission in Bickerstaffe on Friday (March 27).

The event, organised by the mission committee, will start at 7.30pm and proceeds will go towards the church

Online weight–loss group launched

A CLINIC in Ormskirk is launching a new online weight–loss group.

Staff at the Feel Good clinic on Knowlsey Road are looking to run an online programme where participants stream classes over the internet to their own home.

The team will be led by Doctor Akhilesh Kumar Varma, who used to practice on Stanley Street, and Judith Sharpe, a nurse and weight loss hypnotherapist.

WEST LANCASHIRE BOROUGH COUNCIL

ADVERTISING FEATURE

Re-assurance with a press of a button

A vital service is being offered by West Lancashire Borough Council to help keep vulnerable people safe in their own homes.

Home Care Link provides a personal alarm service to 7,000 clients, which is connected to a monitoring centre that operates 24 hours a day, seven days a week. The service aims to promote independence so they can stay in their own homes. People who join Home Care Link are given a call button which can be worn either around their necks or on their wrists. The call button is linked to our monitoring centre through the client's telephone landline. When the alarm is raised our highly-skilled operators respond to get people the help they need.

People who use Home Care Link are given peace of mind and the service also gives comfort to families as they know someone can help their vulnerable relatives in an emergency if they are not available.

Clients have to pay a small fee for the service starting from £2.90 a week. There is usually a charge for installing the Life Line base unit. But people who take up the service before 31 March will get the installation charge free which is normally £25.00. Different payment options are available.

Home Care Link is available to people of all ages, not just the elderly. A growing number of younger people with disabilities are using the service. People who have just been discharged from hospital and are feeling vulnerable can also use the service to help them feel more secure at home.

County's helping hand for fencing ace Richard

A YOUNG fencer from Ormskirk has received financial support from Lancashire County Council to help him achieve his dream of selection for the Great Britain Cadet Team.

Sixteen–year–old Richard Michell, who is the North West under–16 epée champion, has received funding of £750 from County Councillor Kim Snape, Lancashire's Champion for Young People.

It will go towards private coaching for Richard during the international selection season, as well maintenance of his fencing equipment and help towards the cost of attending tournaments.

Cllr. Snape said: "The cost of travelling to tournaments across the country, as well as equipment and training costs, can be very high and is mostly met by parents. So we're pleased that the county council has been able to help Richard.

"It takes dedication and hard work to succeed in any sport – which are both qualities to be proud of. We wish Richard all the best in his upcoming competitions."

Richard Michell pictured (left) at a recent competition.

Richard's dad, Paul, added: "This kind of financial assistance really can have a significant impact on the quality of support a young athlete will receive, giving them the best chance of success on the national stage.

"We'd like to thank everyone who helps to support Richard with his fencing."

Anti–smoking campaign targets young mums–to–be

By Henry James

A NEW campaign to urge young pregnant women who smoke to quit for the sake of their own and their baby's health has been launched by Lancashire County Council.

Mums–to–be can get all the help and support they need via a new website quitfortwo.co.uk specially developed for women aged 16 to 25.

The website, which has been developed in partnership with Blackburn with Darwen Council and Cumbria County Council, includes advice on giving up smoking and tackles the myths behind smoking and the benefits of quitting.

When pregnant women attend their first booking appointment they will receive an information leaflet and, if they smoke, a wallet–sized card with details of the website and the telephone number for their local stop smoking service.

If they smoke, their midwife will refer them to their local stop smoking service who will contact them and make them an appointment. The campaign aims to encourage hesitant young mums–to–be to attend this first appointment and understand what support is available.

The appointment can be as a one–to–one with an advisor, part of a group, by phone and text or a home visit. A woman can choose what type of appointment works best for her.

Stop smoking advisors are friendly and non–judgemental and will go through the range of help and support available to people who want to quit smoking.

County councillor Azhar Ali, Lancashire's cabinet member for health and wellbeing, said: "The Quit for Two website and publicity not only provide a source of information for pregnant women who smoke, they are a helpful resource for midwives and other health professionals.

"The critical point is the time between the women receiving their referral phone call and their appointment date with stop smoking services and the website is a vital tool to encourage them to go along to that appointment.

"Teenage women are six times more likely to smoke throughout pregnancy than older mums–to–be, therefore young pregnant women are most in need of this additional support to help them quit.

"Whether you are pregnant or not, smoking has serious health consequences but it can be devastating for a growing baby."

£370 raised for church repair fund

CHAIRMAN of Lathom Park Trust, Paul Kenyon, has raised more than £370 for Westhead St James Church with his latest talk on the role Lathom Park played in training horses for the First World War.

Horses and mules were a vital part of the war effort and Lathom Park, one of the three principal remount depots in the UK, hosted more than 200,000 before they carried out their service, sometimes at the 'front' in France.

The money raised by the talk, Mr Kenyon's fourth, will be used for ongoing maintenance work.

Edge Hill accused of secrecy over spending

EDGE Hill University has been accused of secrecy after declining to answer questions on spending on flights, hotels, expense claims and vice–chancellor's pay.

The Ormskirk university was one of seven institutions which did not respond to Freedom of Information requests by the University and College Union (UCU).

Their report, which was put together after the union issued FOI requests, showed that some university bosses were spending up to £60,000 on premium flights last year.

According to the report on average, vice–chancellors were paid 6.4 times more than an average member of staff, and that their average salary was £260,000. The study also reveals that 20 institutions had more than 100 members of staff earning more than £100,000 a year. Last year the Champion reported that Edge Hill vice–chancellor John Cater's annual remuneration package was £270,000.

UCU general secretary Sally Hunt, said: "What has been most striking is the huge variation in universities' responses to our requests for information. Too many institutions refused to provide any information on expenses and the majority showed a strong determination to keep the details of decisions on senior pay a closely–guarded secret.

"Even where minutes of the committee tasked with setting senior pay were supplied, they were often redacted to the point where they were rendered meaningless.

"Many staff and students will be amazed at the size of vice–chancellors' salaries, and at the largesse displayed by some university leaders when it comes to first–class flights, hotels and other expenses. That this is happening in public institutions, which are largely funded by the taxpayer and students, makes the lack of transparency and accountability surrounding senior pay and perks a national scandal.

"UCU has raised with ministers time and again the need for a national register of pay and perks, which would also set out the rationale for any increases. We need agreed standards for open and transparent governance in our universities so trust in the system can be restored."

A spokeswoman for Edge Hill said: "Senior staff remuneration is reported in Edge Hill University's annual accounts which is a public document. The report for the academic year 2013–14 is available on our website."

Budding football aces invited to train with Premier club academy

A PAIR of talented young footballers who have been honing their skills at the JMO Sports Park Academy sessions in Skelmersdale have caught the eye of Premier Division scouts.

Six–year–olds, Alex Rotherham and Dylan Morrison, both from Aughton, have been invited to attend the Burnley Youth Academy by the professional club's development centre manager, Ray Binns.

JMO Academy under–6s coach, Karl Gates, said: "I have been working with the two boys for the last 30 weeks and it has been great to see their development throughout the programme.

"Our experienced coaching team here at JMO Sports Park Academy plan and deliver sessions that are key to nurturing players such as Alex and Dylan to high standards and we hope to see a lot more success stories from our academy."

Ray Binns added: "We have worked alongside JMO Sports Park for about two years now and have had a great relationship.

Alex and Dylan pictured with JMO coaches Jenny Winrow, George Corrie and Joe Buchanan of Burnley FC Academy. Code1078552

Recently, I scouted Alex Rotherham and Dylan Morrison from the JMO academy sessions and both players have shown great potential to move to Burnley Elite."

The JMO Sports Park Academy football development programme in Skelmersdale provides coaching by experienced FA–qualified coaches for children between the ages of five and 13. It aims to give them the opportunity to display their ability and hopefully progress from local teams to higher levels.

European Cup hero Alan is guest speaker at business club launch

A NEW club for owners of local businesses to get together has been launched in Ormskirk.

The Harbour Business Group teamed up with Moore and Smalley chartered accountants to stage the first Ormskirk Business Club event at The Cherry House restaurant in County Road.

Guest speaker at the event was former Liverpool and England full–back Alan Kennedy who talked about his career, the highlights of which were becoming the first man to score the winning goal in a European Cup Final twice.

A share of ticket sales for the event and a raffle for a bottle of vintage Champagne raised £260 which was presented to Ian Lawrenson and Andy Muchall from Ormskirk and Formby Rotary.

The aim of the club is to host a monthly event for local business owners to get together to support local companies and local charities.

Laura Houghton, marketing director at Ormskirk Business Club, said: "We wanted to create an informal, relaxed evening exclusively for business owners and directors to come together socially to build relations and support the local area."

Residents' CCTV joy

A RESIDENTS' group has successfully campaigned for a CCTV camera to be sited at the junction of Station Road and Burscough Street in Ormskirk town centre.

The New Way Tenants and Residents Association (NWTRA), which campaigns to reduce anti–social behaviour in the area surrounding Burscough Street, works with other residents' associations in the town and also has regular contact with West Lancs Borough Council, Lancashire County Council, Lancashire Constabulary and Edge Hill University.

Mary Wright, chair of NWTRA, said: "I am delighted to announce that due to the campaigning by our group we have now been successful in getting a CCTV camera in the Station Road/Burscough Street area which has been suffering from anti–social behaviour in the early hours of the morning."

The camera is one of three recently approved by West Lancs Council.

Mobile top–ups for parking plan

A WEST Lancs councillor is proposing a scheme to allow motorists using council car parks to add to their parking time by 'topping up' on the move via mobile phone.

Derby ward representative Councillor Adrian Owens, leader of the recently–formed Our West Lancashire group, is suggesting that payments and top–ups on council car parks could be made via mobile phone.

He claims installing this technology would cost the council around £7,000 while barrier–controlled technology, where drivers pay on exit as opposed to entry, costs around £60,000 per car park.

Cllr. Owens said: "Much has been written recently about the government's move to allow users of car parks throughout the UK to have 10 minutes 'grace' before they are officially booked for over–staying but it would benefit traders significantly if shoppers could pay on their phone and continue shopping rather than having to rush back to car parks."

Petition calls on government to push for borough burial provision

Report by Henry James

ROSIE Cooper has presented a petition to parliament calling on the government to urge the borough council to provide burial and cremation services in West Lancashire without delay.

The West Lancs MP presented the petition containing more than 2,000 signatures following her recent meeting with the West Lancashire Pensioners Forum.

She pointed out that residents of the borough had for years faced the problem of having to travel to neighbouring areas to lay loved ones to rest or have them cremated.

She said: "For several years I've been campaigning for new cemetery and crematorium provision in West Lancashire. Too many families are having to lay their loved ones to rest in neighbouring boroughs due to our lack of burial space, for which they are charged a higher amount

"As well as costing families a significant amount extra to bury loved ones, there is then the extra distance travelling to visit the resting place whether it is Southport, Liverpool or St Helens.

"There is no statutory duty requiring West Lancashire Borough Council to provide burial areas so the solution will mean we have to find a private provider.

"I welcome the hard work and effort of West Lancashire Pensioners Forum to raise awareness of this awful situation.

"The petition was presented to parliament with more than 2,000 signatures and I will monitor the government's response in delivering a solution for the benefit of bereaved West Lancashire families."

Meanwhile a Skelmersdale resident believes a new cemetery could be built on the site of the council's football pitches at Chequer Lane in Up Holland.

He commented: "The people of Skelmersdale use the crematorium at St Helens at the moment and it is probably nearer.

"What Skelmersdale needs is a new cemetery. Residents would rather visit the grave of their loved ones on special days such as Mother's Day.

"Some of the council's football fields, such as Chequer Lane, would be ideal for a cemetery. A cemetery could also be built by the football pitches by the A577 in Up Holland.

"People have no money to go to the cemetery in Liverpool. The new cemetery would not just serve Skelmersdale and Up Holland, it could serve Ormskirk and Burscough also."

University hustings debate row

THE Conservative parliamentary candidate for West Lancashire has accused Labour of "running scared" after they failed to turn up for an election hustings debate at Edge Hill University.

Councillor Paul Greenall said: "I was delighted to be invited to Edge Hill University Student Union election hustings debate. It was a great opportunity to meet local students and other candidates.

"Although some candidates couldn't be there on the evening, most parties sent representatives – apart from Labour. I was told Labour actually declined the invitation to send any representatives. They're obviously running scared of local debate."

However, a Labour spokesman responded: "Every day of the week West Lancashire Labour party has its candidates and volunteers speaking to voters on their own doorsteps.

"Labour will certainly not take any lessons from the Conservative council deputy leader who, according to his own Twitter account, has been spending time on the doorsteps of Chorley and Wirral West instead of facing the voters of West Lancashire."

Invitation to join exercise on prescription plan

Report by Henry James

RESIDENTS are being invited to join West Lancs Council's Activity for Life exercise on prescription scheme.

The council, in partnership with Lancashire Care NHS Foundation Trust, run a free GP referral scheme across the borough.

They offer group, gym–based exercise, providing one–to–one support with GP referral officers throughout the 10–week course.

Activity for Life is for people aged 16 and over, who are currently physically inactive and living with a specific health condition.

Anyone interested can take the first step to improving their quality of life by asking their GP or practise nurse if they are eligible to be referred.

Councillor David Sudworth, West Lancs Council's portfolio holder for health and leisure, said: "Activity for Life is a great way for people who have been inactive to get back into exercise. Small changes to your activity levels can really improve your health so find out if you are eligible as soon as you can."

In addition, residents can go along to one of the weekly health walks, which are aimed at beginners and open to all.

The council runs three weekly walks.

On Tuesdays walkers should meet staff organising the walk at Richmond Park Bowling Pavilion, Burscough at 10am.

On Wednesdays the meeting place is Coronation Park bowling pavilion, Ormskirk at 1pm.

And Thursday walks start from Banks Leisure Centre at 10am.

A warm welcome is promised and no booking is required – just turn–up and discover the local green spaces.

For more information on both the GP Referral scheme and health walks, contact Jenny Deacon on 01695 555804 or email jenny.deacon @westlancs.gov.uk.

PM urged to deliver fair deal on travel for OAPs

ROSIE Cooper has called on David Cameron to deliver a fair deal on concessionary rail travel for local pensioners.

During the exchange at Prime Minister's Questions, the West Lancs MP challenged the value of a concessionary bus pass if there are no buses on which to use the pass.

Speaking after Prime Minister's Questions, she said: "Whilst the commitment to protect the concessionary bus pass is welcome it doesn't recognise or solve the problem West Lancashire pensioners face in getting about.

"We have a situation in which private bus companies are stopping services across all communities leaving those who rely on public transport increasingly isolated.

"At the same time the government have slashed the budgets of local authorities which means they don't have the funds to subsidise replacements services."

Much ado about nothing much!

I'VE kept clear of the furore surrounding the beleaguered oaf Jeremy Clarkson until now – but as Popeye was wont to say: 'That's all I can stands, 'cos I can't stand no more!'

But frankly this whole sorry episode (which may, hopefully have been settled before you read this) has really got my goat.

I'm not a member of the Clarkson fan club – though many people are – but if some of those left–of–centre, right–on, twonks at the Beeb have their way, not only will Jeremy be history (though he has been offered lots more dosh than they are paying him by other TV stations in the past) but so presumably will be Top Gear as well.

And for what? In the past he has been accused of various indiscretions, none of which I would have thought were truly sackable, and now he has allegedly punched a member of the production team – which possibly is. But surely, only if the person allegedly punched made an official complaint about the incident? There does seem some room for doubt as to whether in any case it is really a punch we are talking about, or merely a shove, as Jeremy claims.

Now supposing I were to take a swing at a member of the Champion's production team, which is most unlikely, much as I may have occasionally been tempted. Yes, technically it is an assault. Though again, in these politically correct days, telling someone they are fat – or probably that you just don't like them much, can be so construed.

But supposing I did. Yes, certainly if the person concerned officially made an official fuss, I suppose I could (and should) have got the old heave–ho immediately.

If, on the other hand whoever it was took it on the chin (as it were) and we shook hands and got on with our work, I cannot see for the life of me what the 'incident' would have to do with anybody else and certainly not become the subject of an 'official enquiry'.

And before the angry emails start flooding in, I am quite obviously not in favour of anybody doing serious physical damage to anybody else – but so far as I know, Jeremy Clarkson is not being accused by anybody of doing that.

But I must confess a sneaking liking for the unhappy Clarkson. A rude oaf he can certainly be and I certainly disagree with many of his views on motor cars. His personal life (which quite wrongly has too come under the microscope) may or may not leave a lot to be desired.

However, as a fellow dinosaur in the political correctness stakes, I think we desperately need a few characters like Jeremy Clarkson to add a little, badly–needed colour and, yes, controversy into our increasingly humdrum lives. And why, in any case, has a typically vindictive BBC management, pulled the remaining three Top Gears from our screens? Had the man died, the shows would have gone on 'as a tribute to a colourful presenter'.

Whether the man has now been sacked or not, whether it would have been right so to do, has nothing to do with it. At the time these programmes were made, Jeremy was being well paid to make them, and presumably they weren't any more controversial than any that had come before. Certainly they were something for many thousands of people to look forward to on a Sunday evening.

What the Beeb would have done had they had Mr Toad (perhaps they had?) as presenter, I shudder to think.

And what, I wonder, has become of the Top Gear motoring magazine? Has that been pulled as well?

Oh what a load of poop poop.

MP views nature reserve's conservation project

WEST Lancs MP Rosie Cooper visited Gorse Hill Nature Reserve to view their latest conservation project.

The reserve in Aughton recently completed the Great Crested Newt Pond Project, funded by Lancashire Environmental Fund and the Lottery Awards for All programme.

The newts are a protected species and can only be handled by trained licence–holders. The reserve is home to a thriving established population, currently present in the pond in Cabin Wood and two smaller ponds.

The great crested newt project aims to enable the newts to colonise new sites on the reserve and to help preserve and increase the species numbers.

Six more ponds were excavated after the project was given funding from Lancashire Environmental Fund, a not–for–profit organisation set up to support community and environmental projects within the county, and Awards for All, a Big Lottery project that awards groups grants between £300 and £10,000.

Work on the ponds, which started late last year, has now been completed and grassing around the surrounding areas will take place soon when newt activity will be carefully monitored.

Hunters Funeral Directors

The funeral your loved one deserves at a price everyone can afford

Bereaved families in Ormskirk can now arrange a dignified, professional funeral for their loved one at a competitive price than that offered by the majority of other funeral businesses in the area.

"We are very aware that in these difficult economic times some families are finding it difficult to budget for the traditional service offered by other funeral directors in Ormskirk," said Funeral Manager, Shaun Holland.

"That is why in addition to our comprehensive range of bespoke services, we are pleased to offer two inclusive funeral packages which will allow our families the opportunity to take advantage of our high levels of service at a remarkably competitive price."

Both packages can be upgraded if required to your own personal requirements. Please ask for information. Any additional disbursements charged at cost.

The Burscough Package

Inclusive Funeral Package

- All Funeral Directors charges
- Care of the deceased
- Provision of a lined and fitted coffin with nameplate suitable for either burial or cremation
- Conveyance of the deceased to our Chapel of Rest (within a 10 mile radius)
- Chapel visits to spend time with the deceased (in normal working hours)
- Conveyance of the deceased to the local crematorium or cemetery
- Provision of an attendant minister or celebrant
- Cremation fee (interment fee £200 supplement & excludes new grave purchase)

Home arrangements available

Hunters Funeral Directors also offer a home arrangement service where families can talk about their funeral requirements in the comfort of their own home. They also provide transport at no extra cost for clients without access to a vehicle who wish to visit their premises to make funeral arrangements.

Helping you every step of the way

Hunters Funeral Directors is conveniently located on Burscough Street and has private parking, making things easier for the families they serve.

"Many of our clients like the convenient location of our premises but some prefer us to visit them in their own homes for comfort and ease. Nothing is too much trouble for us if it helps our clients at what is a difficult time in their lives," said Shaun.

Hunters Funeral Directors provide a complete service with no hidden extras and you can be assured that you will be cared for by a professional funeral business that have supported local families for generations.

County parking officers supplied with body cameras to deter attacks

Report by Henry James

LANCASHIRE County Council's parking enforcement officers have been supplied with body cameras in a bid to deter abuse and attacks.

The cameras record constantly while officers are on duty hopefully helping to keep them safe.

The authority's parking services team enforce on–street parking restrictions such as double–yellow lines, limited waiting and disabled parking bays throughout the county. They have been using the cameras since mid–February.

County Councillor John Fillis, Lancashire's cabinet member for highways and transport, said: "Our parking enforcement officers do a very valuable job and these digital cameras will help to keep them safe by deterring the small minority of people who subject them to physical attack or verbal attack.

County council parking enforcement officers are now using body cameras

"Parking restrictions are vital to keep our roads safe and ensure people can find somewhere to park their car in busy areas.

"I'm grateful that we have a dedicated team of enforcement officers and I hope the cameras help them feel safer doing what, unfortunately, is sometimes a difficult job.

"Other councils have already found these cameras to be very useful. The information collected by the cameras is not used to enforce parking but can be passed to the police to use in evidence if one of our officers is attacked."

Data from the cameras is stored securely and is available for review for a short period before being deleted. The data can be downloaded and used in evidence if needed.

There were 10 recorded incidents involving abuse of parking enforcement officers in Lancashire in 2014.

Chamber choir's spring concert date

PARBOLD Chamber Choir are holding their Spring Awakening concert on Saturday (March 28) at Christ Church on Parbold Hill.

The concert, which starts at 7.30pm, will feature choral and orchestral music from the Baroque period.

Directed by Jim Cooke, the choir and orchestra will perform works including Bach's cantata, Sleepers Wake!, Pergolesi's Magnificat and Handel's Chandos Anthem, O Praise the Lord with One Consent.

Tickets cost £10 and can be ordered by ringing 01704 821303 or 01772 491121.

Is your home safe?

BNI FEATURE

When asked what he wanted to do when he grew up, John Kirby always replied, 'an electrician,' and years later he not only fulfilled his dream but also has a successful business.

Here John talks us through his recommendations for a safe and comfortable home drawing upon over 40 years of experience in the industry.

"Not many people could say that when they were at junior school they wanted to be an electrician as I did. People at the time said that I would change my mind but I didn't.

"Now over 40 years later I have been self employed for the last six years and have worked on projects ranging from Torquay in Devon to Stirling in Scotland and lots of places in between.

"It is particularly important, living near the coast with the soil so sandy, that should your home or business rely on an earth stake for the main earthing to the property, you get in touch for a free survey. In certain cases you can find that your property has no earth due to the earth stake not being driven into the ground deep enough and I would recommend a different form of earthing.

"The general recommendation for domestic or commercial properties is that the electrical installation be tested every five years. Industrial installations is every three years with residential caravans having a maximum time of three years. Ask yourself when was the last time your electrical installation was tested - you may have a sticker displaying the date near the mains incoming point.

"Spring is now officially with us – have you thought about garden lighting? It may just be some simple bulkhead lighting for a patio or more advanced with different colours taking advantage of low energy LED lighting that is increasingly becoming very popular.

"Staying with the outside, something that is most important if you are intending on cutting grass or hedges with any type of mains operated lawn mower or hedge trimmers is to check that the socket outlet that you will plug these items into is RCD protected. Remember an RCD can save your life if you are unfortunate enough to cut through the electric flex of such an item whilst working in your garden!

"I can make sure your home is electrically sound and safe for you and your family to enjoy.

"The reason for joining BNI in September 2014 was that I could see huge potential for work for myself – particularly locally. BNI works on a very simple philosophy "it is a giver's gain" i.e. you give me work and I will find you work. We have an extremely friendly group of people meeting every Friday morning. So if you operate a business I would encourage you to find out more how BNI can help your business grow."

Still time to make a splash for charity

ORGANISERS of a charity event dubbed 'the world's biggest annual fundraising swim' are urging local swimmers to take the plunge.

There is still time to register for Swimathon 2015 which is due to take place at more than 600 venues across the UK – including the Nye Bevan Pool in Skelmersdale – from Friday to Sunday, April 17 to 19.

The event, which is supported by Olympic medallist Duncan Goodhew MBE and TV presenter and interior designer Linda Barker, raises money for Marie Curie Cancer Care and swimmers can take part as invidiuals or part of a team over distances between 1.5 and 5k.

Linda Barker and Duncan Goodhew are calling on local swimmers to make a splash for charity

Targets

Sarah Fletcher, community fundraiser at Marie Curie, commented: "So far we have 29 swimmers at Nye Bevan Pool who have signed up for this year's Swimathon but it's not too late for more to take on the challenge.

"It's a great way to get fit for the summer and every length you swim will help raise vital funds for Marie Curie to care for people with a terminal illness and their families in our community."

Duncan Goodhew said: "It's great to see so many people involved this year and there is still time to smash those fundraising targets. Swimathon is open to all ages and abilities and provides a great form of exercise, which can help to relax the mind and body and also build endurance, muscle strength and cardio–vascular fitness.

"And even if you're not swimming this year, you can still support a member from your community."

Swimathon entries are open until Wednesday, April 15 and you can still register by visiting Swimathon.org or calling 0845 36 700 36.

Plantation Shutters by design

OWNERS of Shutters Direct, who only founded the company in Crosby three months ago, believe they are the fastest growing shutters supplier in the North West after opening five more branches across the region.

As well as the head office in Crosby, which opened in December 2014, there are also locations in Walton, Wirral and Cheshire, with more openings most recently in Southport and New Brighton.

It marks an incredible growth in such a short time for business owners Martin Davies, Dean Quinny and Stephen Satchell, who believe their success is down to a good reputation with customers.

They are also boosting the local economy with the creation of more jobs at their offices.

Shutters are billed as being more adaptable than curtains and more versatile than blinds, with a whole host of modern materials and colours to choose from.

They are designed to not only provide sun protection but also make a feature out of any given window – with them also adding value to a house.

Head of marketing, Chris Cashin, told the Champion: "We believe we are the fastest growing shutters supplier in the North West due to our great reputation. We are always honest with quotes and we like to be competitive with prices.

"We always make sure that our customers are happy with every detail of the product beforehand which is very important to us.

"We can fit any window in any house. We have three main products from a reliable supplier who is one of America's largest suppliers. There is premium base wood, madison and poly-vinyl. The last one is the most popular as it gives a ten year guarantee.

"There are any choice of colours from the Dulux range to match the house with lots of styles."

Pupils' poppy memorial inspired by Tower of London project

A CERAMIC poppy memorial has been created to remember the sacrifice of those who gave their lives in the First World War.

Pupils at Ormskirk West End Primary School started work on their own memorial after being inspired by the Tower of London poppies exhibit. The children created their own ceramic poppies, helped by local artist Gaenor Hall.

The outdoor memorial was unveiled by Mayor of West Lancashire Mayor, Councillor Doreen Stephenson, who went along to view the display.

Headteacher, Nigel Baxter, said: "The final display is stunning, the children have created an eyecatching, poignant memorial to all those who gave their life in the First World War. Many thanks also to Gaenor Hall for all her hard work and to Ormskirk High and St Bede's for firing the poppies."

Chance to join rangers at free spring events

By Danielle Thompson

WEST Lancs Council Rangers have organised a number of free springtime events to be held throughout next month.

On Wednesday, April 1, visitors of all ages can join the rangers to look for seasonal, natural wild foods in Coronation Park, Ormskirk at the Family Friendly Foraging event.

Those taking part should meet at the bowling pavilion at 2pm.

A similar event will take place at Beacon Country Park Up Holland on Saturday, April 18, starting from the rangers' hut at 2pm.

On Monday, April 6, walkers can discover some of West Lancashire's wonderful countryside on the five–mile Halsall Circular Walk. Walkers should meet at Saracens Bridge at 10am.

A number of Junior Rangers Club events for youngsters aged between five and 12 are also planned for the Easter holidays.

Children can join in an Easter Eggstravaganza on Tuesday, April 7, searching Corornation Park, Ormskirk looking for hidden surprises along the rangers' Easter trail.

Arts and crafts activities will also be taking place, including making and decorating Easter baskets. The event starts at the bowling pavilion at 2pm.

Youngsters can also compete at the Easter Sports event at Richmond Park, Burscough, on Wednesday, April 8, from 2pm.

Games will include an assault course and a traditional egg and spoon race with prizes to be won. To join in meet at the bowling pavilion.

Another Easter sports event takes place at Stanley Coronation Park, Skelmersdale, on Friday, April 10, starting at 2pm from the park's bowling pavilion.

And young detectives can join the rangers to 'eggsamine' hidden clues along the Easter Trail at Beacon Country Park on Thursday, April 9. The activity starts at the rangers' hut at 2pm.

For all these events children will require adult supervision from someone aged 18 or older throughout.

Places at each activity are limited. Booking opens seven days before each event, email beacon.park@westlancs.gov.uk or call 01695 622794.

To book a place for the Family Friendly Foraging events activities, call 01695 570258 for the Coronation Park event, or 01695 622794 for the Beacon Country Park session.

Enrolment now open for county council's summer learning programme

ADULT learners can choose from more than 200 courses that are now open for enrolment as part of Lancashire County Council's summer term programme.

All of the courses will be held in local, accessible venues across the county, such as libraries, community centres, church halls, children's centres and schools.

Alongside seasonal favourites such as holiday languages, gardening and astronomy, new courses include Catalan, wedding floristry, chocolate and flash fiction, for those with an interest in literature.

Taster sessions are available for many courses and the qualified tutors are always happy to chat to people about which courses may suit them best.

Linda Carter, assistant principal, said: "The summer term is a great time to get back into learning. There is always a lot going on at this time of year, including our free Adult Learners' Week courses and special summer school courses.

"Adult learning is great for wellbeing. Our courses can help to build your confidence and learning something new can give you a real sense of achievement."

For more information and a complete list of courses, visit www.lancashire.gov.uk /adultlearning or call 0300 123 6711.

Learning the recipe for restaurant success

PUPILS at a local school learned the recipe for running a successful eaterie when they visited The Left Bank Brasserie in Burscough Street, Ormskirk.

The youngsters from Ormskirk West End Primary on Grimshaw Lane enjoyed leaning different cooking techniques from owners, Luis Abreu and Fernao Teixeira and assistant manager Liam Belcher – as well as making tasty – non–alcoholic – cocktails!

Headteacher, Nigel Baxter, said: "We teamed up with The Left Bank to teach the children about the different aspects of running a successful restaurant to coincide with the emphasis on cooking and healthy eating in our new curriculum.

"They learned about what goes on behind the scenes, how the best local produce is prepared and cooked and the thought that goes into the delicious menu. They especially enjoyed cooking with Luis and making cocktails with Liam."

And teacher Mrs Horton added: "Neither the children nor I realised how complicated running a restaurant is. The children are really enjoying the project and now have a much better understanding about healthy food and its preparation."

The importance of a clean break order

Many people think that once divorced, a former spouse has no future claim on assets or income, and as the case of Wyatt v Wyatt shows, this is very much not the case at all. This case has recently been before the Supreme Court (England and Wales' highest court) and there has been considerable interest in the outcome, both in the media and amongst family solicitors.

Mrs Wyatt has, more than 30 years after the break down of her three year marriage and her divorce from Mr Wyatt, been given permission to bring a claim for what is called 'financial provision'.

At the time they separated, they had nothing. Mr Wyatt was what has been described as a new age traveller, at the time they parted. However, since their divorce, he has gone on to found a business which provides power from wind turbines, which is reportedly worth £57 million.

His former wife, despite a divorce which dated back to 1992, has now made a claim for £1.9 million.

Mrs Wyatt has been told by the court that she faces formidable difficulties in progressing her claim, and probably will not receive the full amount she is seeking. However, in spite of the lengthy passage of time, the Supreme Court Judges have let her progress her case and not simply thrown it out at the first opportunity, which is what Mr Wyatt had asked them to do. To add insult to injury, the court has also ordered that Mr Wyatt must fund his former wife's legal fees in bringing the case against him.

Quite how much she will eventually be awarded from her husband remains to be seen, but it is clear that had they entered into a clean break order dismissing claims against each other at the time of the divorce, Mrs Wyatt would have been completely unable to even try to make a claim.

So many clients take the view that they don't have much now, and the cost of an order outweighs any immediate benefit that they might hope to obtain from it. Some think it's worth taking the risk; others (particularly those who have done their own divorce) don't even appreciate that there is a risk. One cannot help but wonder if that rather short term thinking was adopted by Mr Wyatt, and that he might just have come to regret it.

If you would like assistance in sorting out finances following divorce, and in particular discussing the benefits of a clean break order, why not make an appointment to see me?

WIN! Tickets to see McBusted in concert

FOLLOWING their 2014 UK tour, the release of their debut album, and recent One Direction support, McBusted are returning to UK arenas, for what's set to be another jaw–dropping show.

And as part of their 2015 UK tour, the super group will be visiting the Echo Arena Liverpool on March 31!

The group's initial dates of their 2014 McBusted UK tour sold out within one hour, with more dates added nationwide.

Due to phenomenal demand from fans and the general public, it swiftly became the UK's largest arena tour of the year, played to a staggering 350,000 people across 35 sold–out arenas, culminating in a show–stopping headline performance at Hyde Park to 60,000 people.

Now the Champion is offering two lucky readers the chance to win two tickets each to see McBusted at the Liverpool Echo Arena next Tuesday evening, March 31.

To be in with a chance of winning, all you have to do is answer the question below.

Q. How many members are in McBusted?

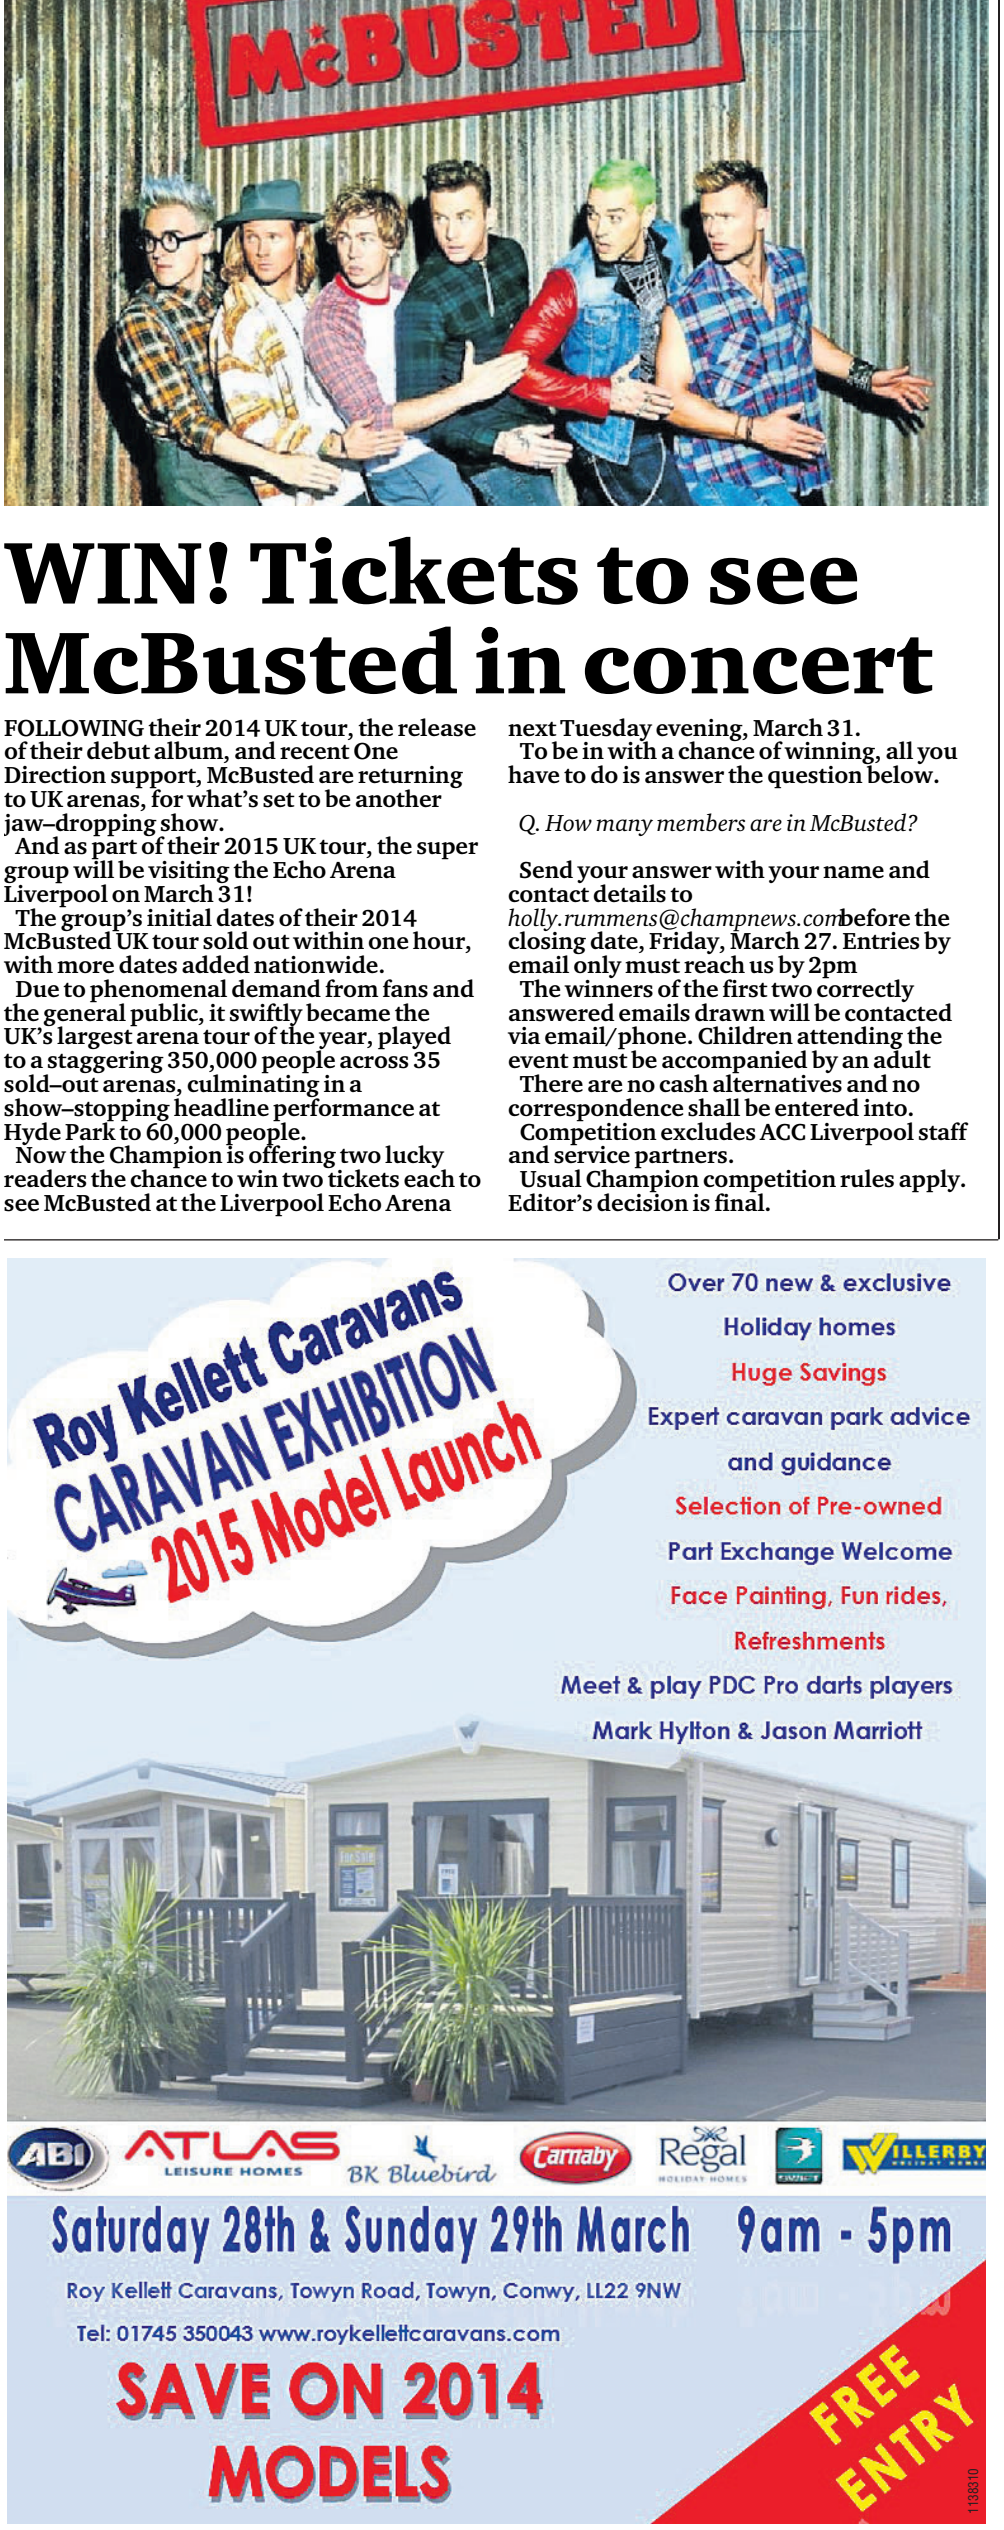
Send your answer with your name and contact details to holly.rummens@champnews.com before the closing date, Friday, March 27. Entries by email only must reach us by 2pm

The winners of the first two correctly answered emails drawn will be contacted via email/phone. Children attending the event must be accompanied by an adult

There are no cash alternatives and no correspondence shall be entered into.

Competition excludes ACC Liverpool staff and service partners.

Usual Champion competition rules apply. Editor's decision is final.



Swans set to leave Martin Mere

THE next few weeks will see almost 1,000 whooper swans which have spent the winter at the WWT Martin Mere making their journey back to Iceland for the summer.

The swans leave the wetland centre at Burscough to spend the summer months in Iceland, where they have almost 24 hours sunlight, in order to breed.

When the colder weather sets in again in October they will return to winter at Martin Mere.

Meanwhile, staff at the centre said this winter has seen some amazing stories.

Virginia, their oldest known swan, at the age of 24 (at least) was once again spotted.

They also rung a special anniversary swan called Ruby (XLM) and they had a family arrive after leaving a cygnet behind in Ireland which resulted in a lot of national TV coverage.

Centre manager, Nick Brooks, said: "Every year we are never quite sure what amazing stories the swans will bring back with them. We have a lot of knowledge of individual swans. Autumn is an exciting time to see which swans return back to us and if they have a family with them.

"Of course, it's always sad to see them leave but spring is a great time of the year to come along and visit."

Two weeks left to have a say on plans to protect region's water environments

Report by Danielle Thompson

WEST Lancashire residents have only two weeks left to give their views on a consultation held on how to improve and protect the water environments across the North West.

The Environment Agency set out plans for how water in the North West will be looked after from 2016–21.

The six–month consultation will end on Friday, April 10.

A spokesman for the Environment Agency said: "Water and water environments are essential for life and livelihoods. The average person in the UK uses 150 litres of water everyday in their home. But, if you also include all the water used in growing and manufacturing the things we all use or consume, each of us uses an average of around 4,600 litres (more than 1,000 gallons) of water per day.

"Rivers, lakes, estuaries, coastal areas, wetlands and groundwater provide many benefits; they supply drinking water, support fisheries and provide an essential resource for business and agriculture, as well as providing transport links and social benefits.

"Since the first River Basin Management Plan was written back in 2009, 335 kilometres of river and 19 hectares of lakes have been improved. This has resulted in improved wildlife (fish, plants and insects) and a reduction in the amount of chemicals in the water (ammonia, metals and organic pollutants).

"And over 2,200 investigations have also been completed by the Environment Agency to improve the understanding of the remaining problems and what might be done to resolve them."

Jim Ratcliffe, principal account officer in river basin management service for the Environment Agency, said: "Plans written by the Environment Agency set out actions which need to be taken to ensure that we continue to improve the water environment for people and wildlife even more.

"The water quality of our rivers, lakes and coasts has improved significantly over recent years, but there is much more that we can do. By commenting on the plans, you can play an important role in ensuring that our water environment continues to improve."

• Submit your views to the consultation online at www.gov.uk/government /consultations; by email to NorthwestRBD@environment–agency.gov.uk or in writing to Jane Sansbury, customers and engagement team, Environment Agency, Richard Fairclough House, Knutsford Road, Warrington, WA4 1HG.

Audience clapped their hands and tapped their feet with this 'enjoyable' show

Review by Jenny Robson

• A Swell Party! –
• Aughton and Ormskirk U3A Musical Theatre Group
• Ormskirk Civic Hall – March 19 to 21

A PRESTIGIOUS American mansion was the setting for this talented group's latest production.

The rich set was full of sparkle with red and gold table covers in the upstage seating area and the wings draped in glittery material.

Kicking off with Cole Porter's title song, this lively musical featured poignant and happy numbers we all know from the shows, South America, Irish America, Pop, Motown and country.

Gaynor Hale and John Hardiker followed with Let's Call the Whole Thing Off and Tony Adamson and Patsy Colvin led a tap routine with Puttin' On The Ritz (one of my all–time favourites!).

Gill O'Flaherty sang and danced to The Girl from Ipanema and this was chased by Gaynor Hale's comic skit entitled The Boy from ... (somewhere unpronounceable)!

Teresa and Bill Edwards gave a lovely rendition of I Love You Very Much and Les Parkes and Dorothy Prothero sang West Side Story's moving One Hand One Heart. Tony and Thelma Adamson were great with My Guy and Pauline and Peter Lloyd sang Move Over Darling dressed in their bedtime finery.

Tony Crimlisk sang Paddy McGinty's Goat accompanied by his guitar and there were solos from Ellie Shorelson, Anne Hankin, Chris McCabe, Heather Furnivall, Dave Gleeson , Frank Hopley, Stan Cottier and Peter Lloyd.

Gill O'Flaherty, who also directed the show, joined forces with Gaynor Hale, Patsy Colvin and Sarah Bentham to produce some great dance routines including the Charleston, Irish dancing, line dancing and tap.

Also invited to this all–singin', all–dancin' party were Beryl Bond, Cathleen Barnes, Chris Wilcoxson, Kate Hurley, Ken McGarry and Rosemary Gleeson.

The audience clapped hands and tapped feet – particularly in the medleys at the end of the first half and in the finale when they joined in the singing.

Most enjoyable ... but just a tad too long!

Score: 8/10 – Ormskirk's got talent!

Dirty Dancing star explains reasons behind musical's success

GARETH Bailey who plays the lead in Dirty Dancing the musical has been speaking of why the show is so successful.

Gareth is Johnny Castle in the production, which will be at the Liverpool Empire from Tuesday, April 7 to Saturday, April 25.

He said: "The show is full of dancing, and iconic music. There is also a love story.

"TV programmes such as Britain's Got Talent and the X Factor have combined to make music cool and dancing fashionable.

"It is a high energy fun adaptation."

Mysteries of men and dating explained in new comedy

Report by Henry James

THE mysteries of men, dating, finding Mr Right, and motherhood are explored in Sex In Suburbia, the new comedy starring Claire Sweeney that is coming to Southport Theatre on Wednesday, April 1.

Claire has had roles in West End and touring production that include Chicago, Guys and Dolls, Educating Rita and September In The Rain and television roles in Brookside, Clocking Off, Merseybeat and Candy Cabs.

Sex In Suburbia is co–written by Claire and Mandy Muden, directed by Ken Alexander (Hormonal Housewives) with set design by Mark Walters (Hot Flush).

The show has storylines, which are described as revealing and raunchy, and is set to a backdrop of musical anthems including I'm Every Woman, I Want To Break Free and Somebody Else's Guy.

Claire said: "After all the appallingly bad dates my friends and I have ever experienced, we'd tell each other what had happened and get over the horror of the experiences by laughing about them. Then, about two years ago, my close friend Mandy Muden and I started writing them all down in my front room with the notion of turning them into a comedy.

"At first we weren't even sure if we were funny! But the play went down a storm with the audiences last year when it first opened in Liverpool.

"We take them through every emotion and they enjoy themselves so much that they get up to dance in the aisles and sing along to the big musical anthems we've included, such as I'm Every Woman, I Want To Break Free and, of course, I Will Survive."

Penny Crowe (Lindzi Germain) is the host of a late–night radio phone–in and as Britain's leading Agony Aunt, she takes calls about every date from hell and the occasional one from heaven.

She is more than happy to dish out relationship advice, but is she as happy to take it?

Claire Sweeney joins Penny on her show as a 'relationship expert' while Carl Patrick revels in multiple roles which take in frigid footie fans, karate chopping kids and outrageous radio host, Rory Reynolds.

Claire Sweeney is shown centre Code NA

Brave audience members, will be invited to share their own personal dating stories live on stage and will be rewarded with an Ann Summers goodie bag!

Town's Jazz Festival line up confirmed

The annual Southport Jazz Festival returns this May.

It is an important date in Southport's event calendar as it showcases a range of different jazz styles across the town in various venues from pubs, clubs, hotels, churches and more.

This year it runs from Friday 8 to Sunday, May 10 and The Atkinson is providing four headlining gigs across the weekend from well–known names of the genre including James Morton Quartet Ft: Pee Wee Ellis (pictured), Digby Fairweather and Craig Milverton to upcoming stars of the genre, who are on the cusp of great things; the Riot Jazz Brass Band and the Joshua Cavanagh–Brierley Group – all making names for themselves at festivals and events across the UK.

The event starts on Friday, May 8 at 8pm with James Morton Quartet Ft: Pee Wee Ellis (James Brown fame).

James Morton has been described as one of the most exciting saxophonists in the UK today and The Ambassador of Music for Bristol. Pee Wee has been a major influence for James' music and development over the last 15 years.

Pee Wee of James Brown fame is one of the funkiest players alive and is arguably responsible for creating the genre of music known as funk. Expect some series grove, soul and lyrical playing with this sparky sax led outfit.

Riot Jazz Brass Band will perform on Saturday, May 9 at 8pm. They bring the feel of summer early and have you dancing the night away with their original sound. Riot Jazz Brass Band is a nine–piece brass band made up of trumpets, trombones, a sousaphone, drums and an MC. They play a uniquely twisted mix of funk, soul, and hip–hop.

Gallery launches new programme of exhibitions

Report by Danielle Thompson

THE Chapel Gallery launched a new programme of events and exhibitions on Saturday (March 14) with a display of international illustration featuring prints included in the Harry Potter books.

The gallery on St Helens Road, Ormskirk is hosting an exhibition by the Association of Illustrators, celebrating the work of international illustrators and designers. It runs until April 25 and includes images from magazines and book covers.

Among the almost 60 works in the show are three images by Andrew Davidson who illustrated adult versions of the Harry Potter books, while visitors may also recognise the work of Katy Davis from her E–Stings animations on TV channel E4.

Councillor David Sudworth, West Lancs Council's portfolio holder for leisure, said: "This exhibition is a real coup for the gallery. I am sure many visitors will want to see the works of Andrew Davidson, but the whole event features talented illustrators and designers and will be enjoyed by everyone who comes along."

The opening day of the exhibition featured a variety of free creative activities and during its run there will also be a series of tours and talks.

Anyone interested in taking part can contact the gallery on 01695 571328 or email chapel.gallery@westlancs.gov.uk.

To complement the exhibition and celebrate World Book Day the gallery has also created a Pop Up Reading room, in partnership with Waterstones Ormskirk.

There is also an opportunity to write a book review or design a book cover and submit them by Saturday, March 28 with book vouchers awarded to the best entries.

Also running from until April 25, the gallery is hosting a showcase by One Step On, a West Lancashire group of creative embroiderers. Members include textile tutors, textile graduates and award–winning embroiderers.

The showcase includes a wide variety of work, demonstrating a range of skills and techniques.

PRAYER

PRAYER TO THE BLESSED VIRGIN

Never known to fail.

O most beautiful flower of Mount Carmel, faithful Mother of the Son of God, Immaculate Virgin, assist me in this necessity, O Star of the Sea, help me and show me herein you are my Mother, O Holy Mary Mother of God, Queen of Heaven and Earth, I humbly beseech you from the bottom of my heart to succour me in my necessity.

(Make Request).

There are none that can withstand your powers. Mary, conceived without sin, pray for us who have recourse to thee (3 Times).

Sweet Mother, I place this cause in your hands (3 times).

Thank you for your mercy towards me and mine.

This prayer must be said for three days and after that the request will be granted and the prayer must be published. S.B.

PRAYER

Thanksgiving Novena to St. Jude

O Holy St. Jude, Apostle and Martyr, great in virtue and rich in miracles, near kinsman of Jesus Christ, faithful intercessor of all who invoke your special patronage in time of need, to you I have recourse from the depth of my heart and humbly beg to whom God has given such great power to come to my assistance. Help me in my present and urgent petition. In return I promise to make your name known and cause you to be invoked. St. Jude pray for us and all who invoke your aid. Amen.
Say three Our Fathers, three Hail Marys and Glorias. Publication must be promised. This Novena has never been known to fail.

I have had my request granted. Publication promised. AMG

PRAYER

Saint Jude's Novena

May the Sacred Heart of Jesus be glorified, loved and preserved throughout the world now and forever.

Sacred Heart of Jesus, pray for us, St. Jude worker of miracles pray for us. St. Jude, helper of the hopeless pray for us.

Say this prayer 9 times a day. By the 8th day your prayers may be answered. Say it for 9 days and it has never been known to fail.

Publication must be promised. Thank you St. Jude

Instructions:
Light your candle and declare out loud what miracle you need right now. Repeat this prayer 9 times for 9 days. Do this at the same time each day, never skip a day. If you do, you need to start over again. On the 9th day give thanks, and say "So be it." Give it up to Saint Jude and let go of any worry. You will see results in 72 hours. Never use this prayer to manipulate or control anyone. Use it only with the best intentions.

This is the most important part of the entire process YOU MUST pass this miracle prayer onto others. Some people publish it in the paper, others e-mail it to their friends, and others post it a public building. P.Y

Motoring terminology? Well it's all Greek to me

Life On Cars
DAVID SIMISTER

EVERY SO OFTEN someone makes the mistake of asking me what car they should go out and buy.

It's a futile exercise, because every time anyone's asked me whether they should buy the Nissan Pulsar they've got their heart set on I'll ask them if they've considered, say, a Golf or a Focus instead.

They'll politely listen to whatever suggestions I've come up with, file it away in the bit of their brain normally reserved for memories of that childhood holiday in France they'd rather forget and then buy the car they originally wanted anyway. They'll also, nine times out of ten, declare it wonderful in every way.

However, there's another reason why I increasingly dread dealing any sort of automotive wisdom. Nobody actually understands the terminology any more.

Cack–handed acronyms in the used car classifieds are fair game – flog people like me a Sierra with FSH, PAS and E/W and I'll be able to deduce it's a 1980s Ford which has some power steering, electric windows and a couple of studious previous owners in its favour.

In the wider world of buying new cars, 99% of people don't do initials. So – unless you're the sort of person who spends an unhealthy amount of time buried in Auto Express each week – you won't have a clue what an X5 PHEV is.

All the manufacturers are guilty of it to some extent, which means you won't have a clue what any of it actually means. Did you know that an Active Tourer is a people carrier in BMW parlance, or that KESSY is a keyless entry system on the new Skoda Superb?

A crossover with KESSY and infotainment – or a Skoda Yeti in plain English

Of course you didn't. It's as though the car industry has approached the Campaign for Plain English and told it to take a hike.

But the term I really hate having to explain to people who aren't versed in Petrolhead English's more obscure terminology is 'crossover'.

The term immediately conjures up thoughts of someone midway through gender realignment surgery but as a phrase to describe the Vauxhall Mokka it's marvellously inelegant. Crossover is effectively Newspeak because it masks the fact it's a hatchback pretending to be an off–roader.

Layman's English is long overdue a comeback as the preferred lingo of the automotive world. Until then, you'll just continue using KESSY to activate the infotainment on your crossover. It all makes perfect sense!

New MG6 to go on sale

By David Simister

AN UPDATED version of the MG6 will go on sale later this year, the manufacturer has now announced.

MG – currently Britain's fastest growing car brand – said the new version of its family hatchback has a heavily developed version of the original car's 1.9–litre diesel engine, and that improvements to the interior includes the fitment of a new intelligent in car info and entertainment system. Prices are revealed later this year.

Skoda saloon to start at £18,640

SKODA has announced that prices for its spacious Superb saloon will start at £18,640, with the first cars arriving here in September.

For that, you'll get the entry–level 1.4 TSI – which is £50 cheaper than the model it replaces – with the range–topping 2.0 TDI with four–wheel–drive and a DSG automatic gearbox weighing in at £33,840.

DREAM OF TAKING HOLIDAYS TIME AND TIME AGAIN? ...

1138312

To some, the idea of a dream holiday home may mean residing in a sunny climate abroad, but more people are realising North Wales has so much to offer; beautiful beaches, captivating countryside and a calm pace of life....for many, North Wales is the ideal location to get away from it all.

Specialising in selling beautifully sculptured and affordable holiday homes (both new and preowned, two and three bedroom Caravans) onto privately owned caravan parks in North Wales and Cheshire; Roy Kellett Caravans can provide your dream holiday retreat that's RIGHT FOR YOU.

And on the 28th and 29th March 2015, Roy Kellett Caravans in Towyn, North Wales, will be holding a Caravan Holiday Home exhibition from 9am to 5pm; where you can see a huge display of holiday homes open for you to view at your leisure - you will also be able to meet Caravan Park owners and manufacturers alike, who will be on hand to answer any questions you may have.

With face painting, fun rides for the kids and refreshments this will be a fun day for all the family.

You also have the chance to meet and play PDC professional darts players Mark Hylton and Jason Marriott.

Sales Advisor Jennifer Hughes says, "Here at Roy Kellett Caravans you can be sure to find your perfect holiday home in North Wales. We have a wealth of knowledge and have been the leading suppliers of caravans since 1965."

Jennifer adds, "As specialists in caravan holiday homes throughout North Wales we supply caravans onto parks you never knew existed, and whether you are looking for a caravan park near the beach or in the country, we have a large number of parks on offer to suit every taste, budget and holiday style. So come and see for yourself what caravans are on offer and the 100's of parks that we can recommend to you!"

For anyone interested in finding out more about the idyllic life awaiting you in North Wales visit Roy Kellett Caravans in Towyn, North Wales on the 28th and 29th March.

Enjoy life, enjoy North Wales, and enjoy your dream second home!

Pool summer league set to be launched

THE Ormskirk and District Pool League was formed late last summer made up of teams from the 22 Club and the Farmers Club from Ormskirk, The Bridge, Bull and Dog and the Packet House from Burscough and the Railway from Parbold.

The matches are played on a Wednesday at 8pm, and after 12 rounds the 22 Club led the way, a significant 25 points ahead of their nearest rivals The Bridge.

The league has already held an individual championship and Simon Threlfall of the Packet House is the first singles champion.

A pairs' competition reached its conclusion on March 18 at the 22 Club.

The league is due to conclude on May 20 and they are starting to look at arranging a summer league to run from June to September.

If you are interested in entering a team contact the league by emailing thefarmersclub@hotmail.com or by ringing 07796 938411.

Rugby league legend Scully goes down a Storm in Tarleton

SOUTHPORT Storm, a newly formed Rugby League club based at Tarleton Rugby Club, are enjoying their first season in the North West Counties League and are recruiting new players.

The team has already built up an impressive support base and the club held its first fundraising night on Saturday with special guest, the former St Helens and Great Britain captain Paul Sculthorpe.

The event was a huge success, as guests enjoyed listening to 'Scully' talk about his career highlights and stories from his glittering career.

Club founder and captain said David Oliver : "Scully stayed for the entire night and mingled with all the guests and was happy to sign shirts and have countless photos taken.

"He was a truly class act and was a big part of the event's success. There was live entertainment from singer Dave Orritt who gave a fantastic performance that was enjoyed by all. I would like to thank Tarleton Rugby Club for their fantastic hospitality."

Paul Sculthorpe with Southport Storm's David Oliver.

Linnets back in league action

BURSCOUGH'S return to action on Saturday with a home league fixture against New Mills with a 3pm kick off.

The Linnets currently sit in 15th place in the EvoStik First Division North with 42 points but a win could take them level on points with 13th placed Clitheroe.

Burscough, who had last weekend off, will hope to build on their last victory two weeks ago when they beat Droylsden 3–2.

The club is looking to strengthen its connections with local businesses in and around the town.

Various packages are available.

Woodwork woe for luckless Skem

Witton Albion 2
Skelmersdale United 0

A CLOSE game in which no team really stamped their authority on affairs was decided by the vagaries of where a ball went after hitting a piece of wood, writes Neil Leatherbarrow.

Witton scored their crucial opener from a rebound off the Skelmersdale crossbar that fell kindly, while Skelmersdale were denied an equaliser at a vital point in the game because of where a ball landed after it hit the Witton crossbar.

As the professionals say, 'fine margins.'

The match was never going to be one that left the purest salivating.

Witton turned their first serious attack into a goal via a little assistance from the crossbar. Joe Shaw hit the bar with a header from a corner, the ball dropped to Zac Corbett some 12 yards from goal and he half–volleyed the rebound low into the net.

The goal gave Witton confidence and soon Peter Wylie headed the ball off the Skelmersdale line after Sam Barnes won a high ball in the box and a free–kick from Danny Andrews went wide.

Just before the interval Mitchley put one into the Witton side–netting after Dale Wright set up the half–chance for him.

Tommy Lawson introduced experienced pair Mark Jackson and Paul Woolcott at the break and they made a difference.

The 55th minute was a decisive one. Jackson cleverly put Mitchley in on goal, home goalkeeper Robertson left his line and saved but Mitchley latched onto the rebound and his header crashed against the crossbar in true 'Geoff Hurst style', the ball dropping downwards.

Skelmersdale's players and supporters appealed loudly that the ball had crossed the line, but the referee refused to give a goal.

Witton weathered the storm before Jackson had a goalbound shot blocked and Alan Burton saw his shot cleared off the line, before a penalty appeal for a foul on Mitchley was waved away.

In the last ten minutes Skelmersdale poured forward and were caught out on the counterattack in the 83rd minute.

Alex Titchinor ran at Wylie and won a challenge before squaring the ball to strike partner Jamie Rainford, who slotted the ball under an advancing Steve James to finish off the Skelmersdale fightback.

Mitchley hat–trick opens the way to county cup final

Southport 0
Skelmersdale United 5

A DEVASTATING performance at Haig Avenue fired Skelmersdale United into the Liverpool County FA Senior Cup Final, the highlight of the night was a tremendous hat–trick from striker Dan Mitchley, a goal haul that will have given him a great deal of pleasure as a former Southport player, writes Neil Leatherbarrow.

Leading 1–0 at the interval, two goals in a three minute period between 55 & 58 minutes made the match a "no contest" and guaranteed that the Skelmersdale players in the form of a cup final medal will have something tangible to show for their efforts this season.

Skelmersdale struck in the sixth minute. Alan Burton's shot was charged down by a defender and the ball ran to Mitchley, he created an angle and rifled the ball home from around 12 yards.

Southport rallied and inside two minutes had the ball in the net, Micah Evans heading home from a Will Beesley cross, however, he was clearly offside and thankfully for Skelmersdale, referee Jonathan Hunt agreed with that conclusion too.

Dale Wright and Joe Whittington were creating problems for the Sandgrounders in the middle of the park and the former had a shot saved by Matty Lavelle in the tenth minute.

The game went through a fairly even period until the 33rd minute when Burton saw a shot go inches over the crossbar and remained so into the break.

From the second–half kick–off Southport's Paul Smith put in a dangerous cross but Rob McIntosh sharply intercepted the danger.

In the 55th minute Skelmersdale netted again, Phil Mooney played a tidy pass to Mitchley, who broke away from his marker, turned and fired a power shot low into the Southport net from 22 yards.
